COMPANY DESCRIPTION

Rebecca Pritchett has over 16 years' experience in environmental and natural resources law. Through Pritchett Law Firm LLC, she assists a variety of clients with regulatory compliance, enforcement actions, and civil litigation in all aspects of environmental and natural resources law. She represents businesses of all sizes, from Fortune 500 companies to sole proprietorships, nonprofit organizations, trusts and estates, governmental entities, individuals and trade associations in litigation, regulatory and transactional matters. In addition, she routinely associates with other attorneys when they need assistance with matters or transactions involving environmental issues.

Rebecca has extensive experience in brownfield redevelopment, brownfield economic development incentives, financing purchases of contaminated property, due diligence investigations, water quality, water rights, municipal water supply, wetland and coastal zone issues, hazardous waste and solid waste issues, and mineral rights. In addition to environmental law, she also has significant experience in the areas of public contracts, construction contracts, construction litigation, eminent domain, real property, governmental affairs, lobbying, forestry and ecoterrorism issues, giving her a broad framework for providing solutions to environmental problems. Rebecca understands the unique environmental challenges her clients face, and she applies her knowledge of state, federal, administrative and municipal law to achieve creative outcomes that solve her clients' issues while achieving their business objectives. She helps her clients understand the complexities of the environmental laws and regulations, putting those laws into the context of her clients' business transactions.
